Puppy placements are not made in the order that applications are received. Puppies are placed based on the following: We choose first and may keep two to grow out, Sire owner will get next pick if they are taking a pup, show and performance homes next and then pet homes. We do our best to match a puppy's personality with their new home. Finally, sex and color are considered. We will happily explain to you why we have made the picks we have, and you definitely have a say in the process. The more forthcoming you are during the process the more likely you will be smitten with your new addition.

Because of USDA regulations we do not ship puppies. We can discuss possible options for pickup.
